

WESTON'S WEEKLY

November 14, 2009

Volume 13, Number 2

Contact:

mariluscmier@cox.net

Websites:

www.westonscmier.com

and www.megdlupin.com

Weston's Story

I know I have shared with all you before that I homeschool Weston. In spite of having homeschooled Weston for the past 10 years it still surprises me how he learns. Of all the unexpected things I have had to overcome with Weston (including people hearing him telepathically, him seeing other planes of existence, him being able to manipulate electricity, etc), I think the hardest one for me to accept was how he goes about completing his school work. Forget even thinking he is learning anything new!

Seeing how Weston learned was the first challenge to my faith that I had to overcome. It caused me to question a lot of things, and as a result it forced me to open my mind to things I could never have imagined before. I had never heard of anyone learning the way Weston did, but there he was right in front of me everyday displaying an amazing ability to comprehend subjects most people never thought he would. There were times when it would really freak me out and I would have to take a break from him. I started asking myself (and God) what was the purpose of Weston being able to display such an enormous amount of knowledge? On a larger scale, what was God's plan for my unusual little boy? Would people believe me when I told them what he could do? It really was disturbing to me to see that he learned things in a way I could not even imagine. I remember thinking that he was reading my mind and that was the reason why he was able to give answers to questions on things I had never taught him (I still do think that sometimes). I would then purposefully think of the wrong answer and he would always prove me incorrect by selecting the correct answer anyway. I remember taking him to our homeschooling teacher and her observing Weston taking a science test or math test and just breezing through all the questions. I was always so nervous that she would think I was leading him to the correct answer (which, of course, I wasn't), but she was always so supportive and readily accepted that Weston was doing all the work.

Even to this day I still have questions about how he is able to perform with such a high rate of accuracy when doing school work. So, I decided to ask him a few questions with regards to that. Here is what he had to say....

1. I noticed that when you are presented with a lesson (i.e., Social Studies) you just glance at the pages and sometimes don't even look at the pages in their correct order; however, when I ask you comprehension questions you almost always get 100% of the answers correct. How do you do this?

I can read by just glancing. Some of the things I am reading, I already have known for a long time so it is not necessary to bother reading. Order is something that a linear mind is comfortable so there is a feeling of control. I don't need a feeling of control. My faith is so strong that it is not necessary when I am doing school work. I only feel a loss of control when I am having issues with being stuck between worlds.

2. When you do school work you still prefer to sit on the floor and answer the questions when they are placed on the white board in a multiple choice format. Is this still the best way for you to do your school work?

The multiple choice format is so you can tell what I understand. Thanks for being so open to my way of learning and trying so many different things over the years.

3. Why do you need/like to sit on the floor and do your schoolwork?

Yes. I need to be grounded with the floor when I am working with my lessons. It also helps me to connect with you. You are a major part of my learning. If it wasn't for you I would be just sitting looking out the window like some of the children that are like me. You need to get the word out there is a way that works for everyone.

4. It seems like I don't really teach you anything (it has been this way for years) with regards to school. Is this really the case?

Of course you do! The exposure that you have given me has been priceless. The places you have taken me (the healers, doctors, and scientists) have been part of the reason that I am able to help people. You are always looking for new things to expose me to and new people for me to help. Thanks mom!

5. You have completed Trigonometry, Calculus, and Physics. Is there any type of math that you are interested in me getting a book about? What about a science?

I would like to start studying some of the latest scientist's works like Dr. Bruce Lipton, and Stephen Hawking, I would also like to study some of what NASA is doing. I mean really!

6. Is Spanish a favorite subject of yours? You seem to like the music a lot.

I love Spanish. I really like the sounds of the languages. I love music. It soothes the soul. I love the beats also. There is a real healing effect from music.

7. Speaking of music, how is possible that you can have music going all the time during your school work (sometimes kind of loud) and still be able to concentrate?

Many people are aware that we are programmed to do multi-dimensional and multi-level thinking. I am one of those people. I can multi-anything! Sometimes when I am studying, I am also working on someone! It is so much more effective to do things on several levels. It saves time and sometimes it can save lives.

Thank you Weston (and Meg for "voicing" for him) for sharing with me your thoughts on how I have approached your education. I hope all of you have found this as informative as I have. If you have any questions for Weston, please don't hesitate to send the questions to me.

To read past newsletters go to Weston's website at www.westonschmier.com

---

Messages from Weston

Weston's Words
"Voiced" by Meg Lupin

Focus on what you want and it is yours! God hears all of our prayers. We have to put in the action. What are we waiting for? Do we think that things don't require any action on our part? If we recognize that what we want is for the higher good for ourselves and the world, then ask. If we do the footwork, the results will follow.

Focus on love this week! Spread as much love as you can. Release all negative thinking. Go out of your way to do something nice. Say kind words to someone you know and make their day. Smile at someone that you don't know. This is the month of Thanksgiving. Be grateful. A grateful heart has an easy time spreading love. You don't want to miss it. The love will be returned tenfold!

Much Love,

Weston

---

Update from Meg Lupin

I wanted to know more about how Meg (and Weston) prepared for the teleconference we had a few weeks ago. Since this was the first one I really was curious as to the "behind the scenes" of what preparation needs to happen before such an event. I have asked Meg to share with us her experience.

From Meg .....

"Weston was so funny about the teleconference. He was so insistent that we could not wait. He wanted the grid built NOW. Well in his usual way, he had all of the people show up to make the event run smoothly. Weston wanted Tom Selkow to set up the call. He is experienced in doing this for many other people and so Weston brought him forward to us so we could do the call right away. He knew it would take his mom and me awhile to figure the whole thing out. He is always looking out for his mom!

I got on the call and it was wonderful to see that people had called in from all over the world. Before the call, I was meditating and I received a great meditation from my angels. Weston wanted me to start the call with this meditation. The meditation brought people to a place of humility and connected the group. Then we built the grid. The peace I felt during and after building the grid was fantastic.

Weston had me tell the group information that was important to moving forward at this time. He also let people know that the grid is there for all of us to use. We can put ourselves in the grid or anyone else that needs help. We are all one and I certainly felt a connection. Some people at the end of the call asked some questions and Weston answered in his usual direct and informative way!

He loved the call and thought we did a lot of good work. He wants to do another one right away and wants it to be a regular event. We feel like this is a great way to reach a lot of people all over the world and bring this message of love, hope and peace through inner work to everyone. I am looking forward to the next call and hope all of you can join us!"

Okay, now for my questions to Weston regarding the call. Here is what Weston had to say (as "voiced" by Meg Lupin)....

1. Weston days before the conference (maybe even since you saw Dr. Fred) I could tell you were "busy" working on things. Were you preparing for the teleconference (even though we had not even decided on doing a teleconference at the time?) If so, tell me more about what you had to do in order for this to happen?

I was preparing the participants to be open to a full experience to feel and integrate the shifts that were available during the call. I was also laying the groundwork for this love grid. I want people to know that they can have instantaneous shifts available to them at all times. This is not consistent with the linear thinking that most people are living right now. I am working tirelessly to help people to move past this limited thinking. The time is now. It is necessary.

2. Some people reported feeling an intense peace for days following the teleconference. Can you explain this to me?

The work I did before the call, and the beginning meditation set the internal stage for the internal shifts that were going to take place. When the grid was formed and the participants stepped into the space, peace was available for however long they allowed themselves to experience it. We wouldn't want to feel good for too long. (Haha! That is a linear mind speaking.)

3. Why are these teleconferences so important to you?

I can reach more people all over the world and they can connect with each other. "Healing Hands Across the World" is really important to me and for this planet. We have to love all of our neighbors. Complete tolerance even for the people we do not understand. We are one! It is just the part of ourselves that we have not explored.

4. Has the type of communication that you do with Meg changed during the teleconference?

Before the teleconference her masters told me to start have her start with a meditation that they gave her. It was all part of the puzzle. I am experiencing a conjoining of consciousness with Meg. It is the oneness that I speak of that we all should have with each other. She can listen to me, listen to her masters and be present to what is happening in the room, think about what she knows and know what is going to happen next. This is what everyone can do. Children do this all of the time and get in trouble for not being focused. It just takes practice. In Meg's case, I have bugged her so much that it became a strategy for survival in her "real" world. Sorry Meg! It was the only way I knew how to do it.

---

Testimonials

Some testimonials from people who participated in the teleconference....

The time seemed to fly by on our call last night. This is a great way to reach people who can help make a difference in the world and I expect that there will be many, many more calls like this. Count me in!

With Meg's special guided meditation, we all built a Grid of Love around the planet. That was an amazing experience. We created something so special that's always there when we need it. I've relied on that grid several times this week. When I put my troubles into the grid, I felt an immediate release of my fears and my anger.

This is my second encounter with Meg and Weston, and I look forward to many more. Weston proves that our differently-abled kids are amazing and are here to open our old adult minds to new ways of thinking, of helping, of being.

Thanks, Meg and Weston, for being part of my growing circle.

With gratitude from my heart of hearts,
Ida Zelaya
Baltimore, MD

Meg,

I'm sending gratitude and love to both you and Weston. What a great, GREAT call! The spaciousness, support and love I felt after everyone connected...holy cow! And thanks for the info on helping our empathetic children to clear. We all put our hands on the wall tonight before we went to bed. My oldest daughter especially felt much better.

So many insights tonight. I am feeling so blessed and honored to have been part of that!

With much love,

Sherilyn Draper
Santa Rosa, CA

Last night was wonderful. Your thoughts are so right on and full of love. My body was warmed as soon as you began the beginning meditation. I was sitting on my couch all bundled in my blanket when my whole body got warm and tingly. I was part of this incredible grid.
Thank you for sharing your thoughts and reaching out to me.

My spirit is lifted. This brings me such a high to be shared with the people in my life. You have given me gifts only to enhance my Reiki practice.

Many smiles,

Anne Lesson
Silver Spring, MD

---

Upcoming Events

COMING SOON! More information regarding our next Healing & Networking Workshop.